THE NEW ELIANE CATEGORY THAT COMBINES DESIGN AND HIGH PERFORMANCE

In tune with contemporary architecture, which seeks technical solutions increasingly aligned with aesthetics, Eliane presents ULTRASTONE, a category of technical porcelain tiles that redefines aesthetic standards and ensures high performance.

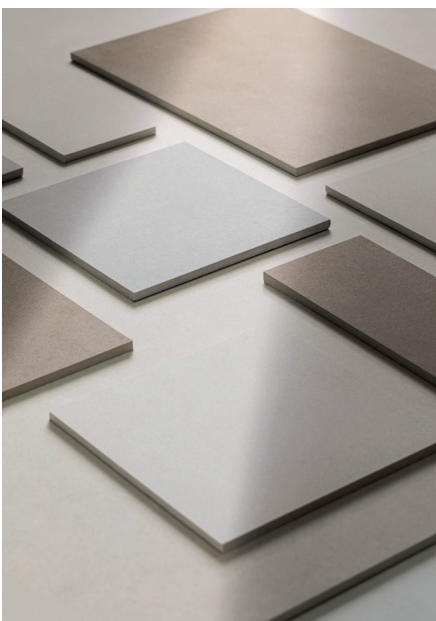

Inspired by the mineral strength of stone, ULTRASTONE translates the essence of natural raw materials into a single-body (fullbody) surface, combining ultra-realism, resistance, and visual sophistication. The result is a collection that expands the possibilities of design and evokes unique sensory experiences.

THE STRENGTH OF STONE, REINVENTED

ULTRASTONE is the ultimate expression of resistance and beauty. With a monolithic appearance from core to surface, the product ensures uniformity and continuous design. Each piece results from a distinctive printing process capable of reproducing the nuances of natural stones with precision and authenticity.

With its fullbody structure, perfect cuts, and high durability, ULTRASTONE is recommended for façades, furniture, countertops, and high-traffic areas — a complete solution that adds value, versatility, and elegance to large-scale projects.

“The ULTRASTONE represents a new milestone in Eliane’s portfolio. It arises in response to a movement in contemporary design and architecture that demands increasingly technical and sensorial solutions. We brought to this category the ultra-realism of textures incorporated into the body, creating a solid and versatile porcelain tile that guarantees high performance in any application,” says Patrícia Loch Zanivan, Design and Portfolio Coordinator at Eliane.

FOUR SERIES, MULTIPLE POSSIBILITIES

The ULTRASTONE portfolio features four exclusive series that reinterpret natural stone in diverse aesthetic and sensory narratives.

MARQUINA

A symbol of balance and intensity, Marquina reflects the absolute elegance of black stone. The contrast between classic and contemporary connects this marble to timeless projects marked by sobriety and sophistication.

GRANULATO

Particles that tell stories. Granulato revives the memory of Italian courtyards, revealing strong, harmonious surfaces. Its shades balance rusticity and refinement, with nuances shaped by time.

CUATRO SERIES, MÚLTIPLES POSIBILIDADES

El portafolio de ULTRASTONE presenta cuatro series exclusivas que reinterpretan la piedra natural en diferentes narrativas estéticas y sensoriales.

BASALTO

Inspired by the strength of volcanic rocks, Basalto expresses dynamism and sensory appeal. Its texture evokes resistance and creates surfaces ideal for contemporary spaces that demand visual impact and durability.

SOLIDO

Sólido emerges from the encounter between pure lines and raw materiality. Its timeless tones, combined with technical strength, make it ideal for commercial and corporate spaces that value minimalist sophistication.

INNOVATION FROM EVERY ANGLE

While previous technical lines already represented a performance breakthrough, ULTRASTONE takes ceramics to a new level. A technical porcelain tile that combines mineral strength, technological precision, and aesthetic sensitivity, designed especially for architects, designers, and engineers who seek excellence in every detail.
